DELIGHTING THE HEARTS OF CHILDREN... was the Christmas project of the Hi-Toppers, a Y-Teen group of 37 girls. The Hi-Toppers staged a gala Christmas party at the "Y" last Thursday evening for 30 children. Carols were sung and games were played. The youngsters were presented with gifts and refreshments were served. Pictured here is Audrey Nicksich (left) and Claudia Smith, Hi-Toppers, with several of the children. Virginia Sandstrom was in charge of the party. The girls were assisted in serving by the following mothers, Mrs. Leslie Puncher and Mrs. Ben Smith, advisors, and Mrs. Helen Smithart.

P T A ACTIVITIES

El Nido

El Nido PTA meeting of Dec. 12 was highlighted with the musical extravaganza by the pupils of the school. Singing, dancing and audience participation in community singing provided everyone in attendance with an air of gaiety which extended into the coffee hour following the meeting.

Preparing for this important meeting, the El Nido PTA executive board members met at the home of Mrs. Elmer Ecker, president, for a potluck luncheon Christmas party. Instead of exchanging gifts once again the board members donated their financial contributions toward the school parties.

Mrs. S. Keeping, welfare chairman, collected canned goods at the school which will fill several of the baskets to be given to some of the less fortunate families in the school district. The association is not only interested in supporting curriculum offerings and emphases designed to strengthen the family group and prepare students for successful family living but also in helping home and school coordinate their standards and requirements for children, mentally as well as physically, stated Mrs. Vera Wright, press chairman.

Plans have been completed for the group's January hot lunch which will be held at the school on Jan. 14.

Christmas at McCulloughs'

Enlivening the John S. McCullough household, 556 Palos Verdes Blvd., were their grandchildren, John Steven, 4 and Carolyn, age one year, who, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, Jr., came from Riverside, for Christmas.

They were also joined by Mrs. McCullough, Jr.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mayes of Fayetteville, Ark. Completing the group was Tom McCullough's college friend, visiting from Claremont College for Men. Parkhurst and his family were former residents in the Palos Verdes Estates, who have taken up residence at Corona del Mar.

Gifts, passed around by Grandfather McCullough, were on the hearth of the fireplace opened on Christmas morning. Following a 2 o'clock dinner, friends were received during the afternoon and evening.

VISITS SON

Returning recently from an extended visit with her son and his family in Riverside, was Mrs. John S. McCullough, 556 Palos Verdes Blvd. She was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, Jr., and their children. The younger McCulloughs formerly were residents of Hollywood Riviera.

Riviera

Almost 500 parents of the Riviera School children were entertained Monday night, Dec. 17, at two performances of the Christmas program "Love Came Down at Christmas" staged by the children of Riviera School. Mrs. William Loft, Mrs. Christensen and Mrs. James Boddan directed the program. Each class from the fourth grade through the eighth presented a tableau and the Glee Club, Intermediate Chorus, and Primary Chorus sang. The program ended with everyone singing Christmas carols in a community sing. Cookies and punch were served by the PTA after each performance.

Dec. 14 the PTA held a noon board meeting at the Plush Horse Restaurant. Mrs. Francis Stockle, Torrance PTA council president, was a guest. Carl Shaner, vice principal was presented with a gift as he has left Riviera School to become principal of Anza School.

Mrs. K. Sparks, PTA president, announced the next meeting of the Bike Club, called "The Roadhaws" will be Saturday, Jan. 12, 10 a.m., at the school. The first meeting of the Parent Information group will be Wednesday, Jan. 9, at 9:30 a.m., at the school. The first topic will be "reading." Anyone who has questions about or is interested in the present teaching method used in connection with reading is invited to attend and participate in the discussion.

Tatum's Hosts To Family

Mr. and Mrs. Barton A. Tatum, 1005 Kornblum, were hosts to Mrs. Tatum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Peterson, and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Peterson from San Pedro, and Mr. Tatum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hume also of Los Angeles.

The Tatum children, Barton, Jr. and Phyllis opened their gifts in the morning, then enjoyed a second Christmas opening the gifts their grandparents brought them later.

Dinner was served mid-afternoon. The unusual centerpiece featured a piece of bark into which woodpeckers had dug holes and stored acorns. Into these holes, Mrs. Tatum placed red candles and added tiny acorns. Eastern holly was used to complete the piece. The bark was a souvenir the Tatum found on a hunting trip last year.

A miniature train, track and scenery surrounded the Christmas tree, an accessory which is included every year. Friends and neighbors dropped in with their holiday greetings during the course of the day. On Christmas Eve, neighbors came by for a cup of egg nog to greet the ensuing holiday.

Candy Tree Is Theme at Club Party

The "gum drop" tree was the theme chosen by Mrs. John Kincannon and Mrs. James Shidler when they entertained their bridge club at a Christmas party on Monday evening at the Kincannon home on Calle Mira Mar in Hollywood Riviera.

A huge gum drop tree stood on the hearth of the fireplace. Miniature Christmas stockings for each guest also hung on the fireplace.

Bridge was played with the high score held by Mrs. Warren Hamilton who was accorded the drawing of the first gift from the gift exchange. The traveling prize was won by Mrs. Lloyd Jones.

The guests were then seated at the dining table for a midnight supper. A gum drop tree was the centerpiece and at each place was a miniature gum drop tree.

Enjoying the holiday party were: Mrs. Tony Baratta, Walter Rehboldt, R. R. Dexter, Albert Posner, James Shidler, John Kincannon, Warren Hamilton and Lloyd Jones.

Children's Yule Party

Ann and Linda Hamilton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hamilton, 1727 Fern Ave., were hostesses at a neighborhood Christmas party last Thursday evening at their home.

The children sang Christmas carols accompanied by Jerry Roberts at the piano. Names were drawn for a gift exchange and Mr. Hamilton served as Santa Claus.

Punch and Christmas cookies were served by Mrs. Hamilton and the guests enjoyed dancing and games. A popcorn Christmas tree made of popcorn balls provided each guest with a party favor.

Enjoying the event were Patricia and Billy Piercy, Janet and Tommy Posner, Jerry and Kenny Roberts, Ronette Dill, Jimmy Weir, Susan and Steven Swigerts, John Connors, James, David and Linda Bowdin, Susan Latta, and Sue Ann Lunt.

Fucci Home Party Scene

A pre-Christmas party was given last Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fucci, 5321 Clearsite, for a large group of friends.

Arrivals were greeted by recorded Christmas music and Tom and Jerry were served. During the evening, games were played, followed by an evening of dancing in the living room.

Friends enjoying the evening were Messrs. and Misses, Richard Burch, Jim O'Toole, Ronnie Blacic, Vince Weigel, Stacey Rodman, John McVey, Doug Bernhagen, and Ross Teachee.
